TOP TALENT JOINS TEKTON CREATIVE

Vancouver, BC. Tekton Creative snagged hot commodity Ashley Maile as exclusive studio photographer, and will be working with him on all projects requiring original photography, both large and small.

Maile is a sought-after photographer whose work has appeared in the likes of “Rolling Stone”, “MOJO”, “Kerrang!” and “Blender” magazines. Maile’s talent has taken him across the globe, where he has met many interesting people, and honed his abilities to ‘make everything look good’ and ‘work on the fly’.

“It’s not everyday that a studio is able to bring a photographic talent like Ashley on board,” says Derek Hepburn, Tekton’s Creative Director. “He definitely brings a great visual style of creativity to the table for our clients, and his diverse background makes him a valuable asset.”

Maile is looking forward to adding his talent and energy to Tekton’s hub of diversified creative experts. “I’m excited about working in such a collaborative environment,” says Maile. “The Tekton team understands the value of great imagery – they know there’s more to successful photography than snapping a picture... it’s about capturing emotions on film.”

Using Ashley’s talent ensures our clients projects will stand out in the crowd. Tekton welcomes Maile to the team.
